

NEXT YEAR'S JAMBOREE UNDER WAY

Jamboree 2012 producers officially turned over the reins to the new 2013 producers and announced that $90,150 was raised for college scholarship funds this year. The newly named 2013 producers have begun the 12-month preparations for this traditional fund-raiser. Tom Krenn returns to the helm after a year hiatus from producing the 2010 show. Diane Loughlin will join forces with PJ Lalwani (this year's social chair), and Kris Linton, who's been involved in Jamboree for several years.
